Dear Commissioners,

Each year, Earth Day -- April 22 -- marks the anniversary of what many consider the birth of the modern environmental movement that started in 1970. I was a junior at Scottsdale High School and attended this event with a high school group called the Yogurt Club. That was 45 years ago this April.

With the onset of the 2008 economic crash in the construction industry, I chose to follow up with the ideal of making our city and state a "greener place to live". Hence the birth of Weatherwize Building Performance Specialists, a family owned and operated business specializing in home performance, i.e. energy efficiency.

The Home Performance with Energy star program in Arizona has proven to be one of the best in the nation, and we should be very proud of that. Arizona needs to continue to lead and be on the cutting edge of this industry. Many thousands of jobs have been created and are continue to be created in this industry; it would be a great shame to lose it now.
